

Marblehead Farmers Market

Marblehead, Massachusetts is an affluent historic seacoast community founded in 1629 and located 13 miles Northwest of Boston. At one time it was the seventh largest city in the United States. But it took until 1997 — almost 370 years — to establish a viable Farmers' Market.

{mgmediabot2}path=images/stories/Oct2008/video/marblehead.flv|width=400|height=310|displayheight=266{/mgmediabot2}

Check out the full feature about Marblehead Farmers' Market...

And take a look at the videos you might have missed in the past few months:

- Our original video -- An Introduction to OnlyAtFarmersMarkets.com
- November 2008's featured market -- The Union Street Farmers' Market in Gainesville, FL
- December 2008's featured market -- The Fort Pierce Farmers' Market in Fort Pierce, FL
- January 2009's featured market -- The Crocker Galleria Farmers' Market in San Francisco, CA
- February 2009's featured market -- The Davis Farmers' Market in Davis, CA
- March 2009's featured market -- The Watertown Farmers' Market in Watertown, WI
- April 2009's featured market -- The Meridian Township Farmers' Market in Okemos, MI

- May 2009's featured market -- The Dane County Farmers' Market in Madison, WI

- June 2009's featured market -- The Downtown Manchester Farmers' Market in Manchester, NH